Studied details. A traditional desk rendered in luxe artisan metal. The desk's top offers the unexpected, framed in thirds with matte gold metal. The center section is inset with oak while the two smaller sections are framed in glass, revealing the desk's finely appointed drawer. Rich brown, sueded leather lines the drawers that are fitted with dividers and couture desk accouterments. Drawers can be pulled out for ease of function. For a contemporary alternative, drawers may be removed completely as open compartments are finished beautifully in cluster fumed oak. Drawer pulls made of horn wrapped with matte gold metal.
